JOHN LASZLOFFY,

Plaintiff,

V.

CINDY ZORAIDA GARCOA, et al.

Defendant.

Case No. 2:19-cv-01173-JAD-BNW

RECOMMENDATION AND ORDER

10 Plaintiff John Laszloffy, who is proceeding pro se and in forma pauperis, initiated this suit
11 on July 5, 2019. ECF No. 1. The Court screened his First, Second, and Third Amended
12 Complaints and dismissed them with leave to amend. ECF Nos. 27, 31, and 33.
13 Presently before the Court is Mr. Laszloffy's timely filed Fourth Amended Complaint (ECF No.
14 34-1), which it will now screen.

I. Allegations in Fourth Amended Complaint

16 On May 15, 2018, Plaintiff was involved in a car accident with Defendant Cindy Zoraida
17 Garcia—a taxi driver—while she was driving with a passenger in her taxicab. Plaintiff alleges 18 that while exchanging insurance information after the collision, he observed only minor damage
19 to the vehicles. According to Plaintiff, Garcia and her passenger indicated that they were not 20 injured. When a representative from the taxi company (ANLV CAB) arrived to survey the scene,
21 Garcia told the representative that she could continue transporting her passenger and would not 22 need a replacement driver.

23 The day following the accident, Plaintiff's insurance company informed him that Garcia had 24 retained an attorney (Leon Symanski) and filed a personal injury claim. Because Plaintiff
25 believed the incident was simply a minor traffic accident, he expressed concern to the insurance
26 agent, who assured him the claim would be properly investigated. Plaintiff believes it was 27 impossible for Garcia to be injured given the nature of the collision.

1 Sometime in December 2018, Plaintiff's insurance company paid off Garcia's claim and 2 informed him that he would be placed in a "high-risk group." As a result, he claims that his
3 insurance premiums doubled and no other company would insure him at his initial rate. Plaintiff
4 believes that the insurance company did not pay Garcia's claim because it was legitimate, but 5 rather because her claim amounted to a "nuisance value," or a claim that is easier to pay for than 6 "hav[ing] to deal with the nuisance of a claim that will not go away."

7 On January 31, 2019, Plaintiff—believing that Garcia had filed a fraudulent claim—sent her a
8 letter providing "a chance to redeem herself with a settlement offer," and warning that he had "no 9 other choice but to sue" should she not accept.

10 On February 11, 2019, Plaintiff received a cease-and-desist notice from Garcia's attorney,
11 Leon Symanski, asking him to refrain from further communication with Garcia and threatened 12 legal action should he continue.

13 Mr. Symanski also contacted Plaintiff's insurance company (Mercury Insurance) to inform it
14 that Plaintiff had tried to extort his client, Garcia, as a result of the lawsuit she filed and that it
15 may be subject to litigation should Plaintiff's conduct continue.

16 Plaintiff brings the following causes of action against the following Defendants:

- 17 1. Fraud: against Gracia, Symanski, and ANLV CAB
- 18 2. Civil Conspiracy: against Symanski;
- 19 3. Defamation: against Symanski;
- 20 4. Libel: against Symanski;
- 21 5. Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress: against Garcia and Symanksi;
- 22 6. Concert of Action: against Garcia, Symanski, and ANLV Cab.

23 II. Analysis

24 A. Screening Standard

25 Because Plaintiff is proceeding in forma pauperis, the Court must screen his complaint under 26 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2).

27 In screening the complaint, a court must identify cognizable claims and dismiss claims that 28 are frivolous, malicious, fail to state a claim on which relief may be granted, or seek monetary

1 relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2). Dismissal for 2 failure to state a claim under § 1915(e)(2) incorporates the standard for failure to state a claim
 3 under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6). Watison v. Carter, 668 F.3d 1108, 1112 (9th Cir.
 4 2012).

5 To survive § 1915 review, a complaint must “contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as 6 true, to state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678
 7 (2009) (citation omitted). The court liberally construes pro se complaints and may only dismiss
 8 them “if it appears beyond doubt that the plaintiff can prove no set of facts in support of his claim 9 which would entitle him to relief.” Nordstrom v. Ryan, 762 F.3d 903, 908 (9th Cir. 2014)
 10 (quoting Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678).

11 In considering whether the complaint is sufficient to state a claim, all allegations of material
 12 fact are taken as true and construed in the light most favorable to the plaintiff. *Wyler Summit
 13 P'ship v. Turner Broad. Sys. Inc.*, 135 F.3d 658, 661 (9th Cir. 1998) (citation omitted). Although 14 the standard under Rule 12(b)(6) does not require detailed factual allegations, a plaintiff must 15 provide more than mere labels and conclusions. Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 16 555 (2007). A formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action is insufficient. Id. But,
 17 unless it is clear that the complaint's deficiencies could not be cured through amendment, a pro se
 18 plaintiff should be given leave to amend the complaint with notice regarding the complaint's
 19 deficiencies. Cato v. United States, 70 F.3d 1103, 1106 (9th Cir. 1995).

20 1. Claim One: Fraud

21 This claim alleges that defendants Garcia, Symanksi, and ANLV Cab deceived Mercury
 22 Insurance (who was acting as a proxy for Plaintiff) when they claimed that Garcia was injured.
 23 He cites different examples which, according to him, provide evidence that the injury claim was 24 fraudulent.

25 These are the elements for Fraud under Nevada law: (1) a false representation by 26 defendant; (2) defendant's knowledge or belief that the representation is false (or knowledge that 27 there is an insufficient basis for making the representation); (3) defendant's intention to induce 28 the plaintiff to act or to refrain from acting in reliance upon the misrepresentation; (4) Plaintiff's

1 justifiable reliance upon the misrepresentation; and (5) damage to the plaintiff resulting from such 2 reliance. Nevada Power Co. v. Monsanto Co., 891 F. Supp. 1406, 1413 (D. Nev. 1995) (citation 3 omitted).

4 As explained in the Court's previous order (ECF No. 33), Plaintiff fails to plausibly allege
5 the third or fourth elements. As to the third element, he does not allege that Garcia, Symanski or 6 ANLV CAB intended to induce Plaintiff to do—or refrain from doing—something. Instead,
7 according to Plaintiff, Defendants intended to induce Plaintiff's insurer, Mercury, to do
8 something; namely, pay the nuisance value of her claim. Further, as to the fourth element, 9 Plaintiff does not allege that he justifiably relied on Garcia's false representation. Instead, it is 10 Mercury that relied on the representation. The fact that Mercury may have been acting on behalf
11 of Plaintiff does not cure the deficiency. To the extent Plaintiff believes Mercury should not have 12 paid the claim, his claim would be against Mercury. Likewise, to the extent Mercury believes it 13 was defrauded, it can pursue those claims.

14 Given the Court does not believe this claim can be cured by amendment, it recommends 15 that it be dismissed with prejudice.

16 2. Claim Two: Civil Conspiracy

17 Plaintiff alleges Defendant Symanski and Mercury conspired to slander him and commit 18 libel.

19 Actionable civil conspiracy arises where two or more persons undertake some concerted 20 action with the intent “to accomplish an unlawful objective for the purpose of harming another,”
21 and damage results. Consol. Generator–Nevada, Inc. v. Cummins Engine Co., 114 Nev. 1304,
22 1311, 971 P.2d 1251, 1256 (1998).

23 In his Third Amended Complaint, Plaintiff named Mercury as a defendant under this 24 claim. ECF 32. Since then, Plaintiff dropped Mercury as a defendant given Mercury would have 25 destroyed diversity jurisdiction. But the problem with the instant claim is that Plaintiff cannot 26 sufficiently state a claim for relief for Civil Conspiracy when there is only one defendant left
27 (Symanski). Consol. Generator–Nevada, 114 Nev. at 1311, 971 P.2d at 1256 (explaining that a 28

1 cause of action for civil conspiracy requires two or more defendants acting in concert). Given two
2 or more defendants are needed for this claim, Plaintiff has not plausibly alleged a valid claim.
3 Given the Court does not believe this claim can be cured by amendment, it recommends that it be 4 dismissed with prejudice.

5 3. Claim Three: Defamation

6 Plaintiff alleges Symanski wrote false and defamatory statements and faxed them to 7 Mercury. According to Plaintiff, the statements involve Symanski telling Mercury that Plaintiff
8 was extorting Garcia.

9 A defamation claim requires demonstrating (1) a false and defamatory statement of fact by 10 the defendant concerning the plaintiff; (2) an unprivileged publication to a third person; (3) fault,
11 amounting to at least negligence; and (4) actual or presumed damages. Simpson v. Mars, Inc., 929
12 P.2d 966, 967 (1997).

13 Here, Plaintiff alleges Symanski made a false statement about Plaintiff when he sent a fax
14 to Mercury Insurance stating that Plaintiff had attempted to extort Garcia. Therefore, the first 15 element is met.

16 Next, Plaintiff also meets the second element as the allegation is that this statement was 17 made to a third party—Mercury.

18 As to the third element, this Court construes the allegations here as Symanski being at 19 least negligent in making that remark. Therefore, the third element is met.

20 The Court has previously explained that in order to satisfy the fourth element Plaintiff
21 would need to allege damages. In his last page of the instant complaint plaintiff seeks monetary 22 judgements. Given the liberality with which Court's screen complaints, this last element has also 23 been met.

24 As a result, this claim for defamation may proceed against Symanski.

25 4. Claim 4: Libel

26 Plaintiff alleges Symanski wrote false and defamatory statements regarding Plaintiff
27 extorting Garcia and faxed them to Mercury.

1 In order to maintain a claim of libel, a plaintiff must show a false and defamatory
2 statement, its unprivileged publication, fault, and damages. Pegasus v. Reno Newspapers, Inc., 57
3 P.3d 82 (2002).

4 For the same reasons discussed as to Claim, Plaintiff has sufficiently alleged a claim for Libel
5 against Symanski and the claim may proceed.

6 5. Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress

7 Plaintiff alleges that Symanski's faxed libelous and slanderous remarks about Plaintiff to 8 Mercury even after Plaintiff contacted Symanski where he refuted Garcia's allegations. In 9 addition, he alleges Symanski and Mercury tried to force him to "drop his case." Plaintiff alleges 10 he suffered extreme emotional distress as a result of Symanski's conduct.

11 To establish a cause of action for IIED, a plaintiff must allege the following: (1) extreme 12 and outrageous conduct with either the intention of, or reckless disregard for, causing emotional 13 distress; (2) extreme or severe emotional distress actually suffered by the plaintiff; and (3) actual 14 or approximate causation. Olivero v. Lowe, 995 P.2d 1023, 1025 (Nev. 2005).

15 Given the extreme liberality with which courts screen these complaints, Plaintiff has 16 sufficiently alleged a claim for IIED against Symanski.

17 Plaintiff has not sufficiently alleged a claim against Garcia as he does not allege that 18 Garcia's conduct caused the distress. Given the number of complaints filed, the Court does not
19 believe Plaintiff will be able to sufficiently state a claim against Garcia. As a result, the Court
20 recommends that this claim against Garcia be dismissed with prejudice.

21 6. Claim Six: Concert of Action

22 Plaintiff's eighth claim alleges that Garcia, Symanski, and ANLV CAB acted together in 23 bringing forward a false personal injury claim. In turn, this caused Plaintiff's insurance premiums 24 to double.

25 To recover under a theory of concert of action, a Plaintiff must show that defendants 26 committed a tortious act or "agreed to conduct an inherently dangerous activity or an activity that 27 poses a substantial risk of harm to others." Abrams v. Sanson, 136 Nev. 83, 92, 458 P.3d 28 1062,1070 (2020).

1 Plaintiff's allegations sufficiently state a claim for relief. Given the liberality with which
2 the Court construes the allegations, it reads the complaint to state that the filing the alleged false
3 claim had a substantial risk of economic harm to Plaintiff. See Pickens on behalf of State v. La
4 Villa Vegas, Inc., 485 P.3d 1248 (Nev. 2021) (evaluating concert of action claim as applied to a 5 defamation and false light claims).
